

Privacy Policy

1. Marine Design International recognises the importance of your privacy. All information that you provide to us will be retained and disclosed only in accordance with the Data Protection Acts 1984 and 1998.

2. Registration - Visitors to the Marine Design International website are at times given the opportunity to register:

- The benefits of registration include the option to receive news e-mails from Marine Design International
- You may tell us about vessels you already own which information will help us send you content relevant to you and inform you of relevant regulatory updates.
- The benefits of registration also include the option to subscribe to receive relevant news direct from Marine Design International that you will receive by post.

3. Marine Design International will not pass your details to any third party or company, except those that we may use to act on our behalf during a project.

4. Marine Design International reserves the right to access and disclose individually identifiable information to comply with all applicable laws and lawful requests by the appropriate authorities, to operate its systems properly or for its own protection or that of its other users.

The information you provide on our website is processed securely through AWeber and only accessible by Marine Design International. Your details will never be made available through AWeber to any third party.

www.aweber.com